CORPORATE UNITED SELECTED BY GRANGE INSURANCE FOR ITS SPEND MANAGEMENT SERVICES

CLEVELAND — April 14, 2009 — Corporate United, the nation's largest group purchasing organization, has added Grange Insurance to its membership. Grange provides competitive insurance products for auto, home, business and life to its independent agent partners in 13 states.

Corporate United provides an opportunity to participate in a portfolio of leveraged contracts across a wide variety of indirect spend areas. As a member, Grange should achieve significant savings on non-strategic goods and services by leveraging the combined purchasing power of Corporate United's more than 130 members.

“With current economic conditions forcing all U.S. companies to more closely evaluate their spend, Corporate United is uniquely positioned to serve its members by delivering a speed-to-savings advantage without demanding the already constrained resources of its members,” said Corporate United President Marc Rosen. “We look forward to helping Grange Insurance meet and exceed its spend management goals, while allowing them to focus on their core business.”

“We have a small procurement organization here at Grange,” said Christine Coutts, manager of procurement. “As such, partnering with Corporate United is like an extension of our group that will help provide additional leverage and assistance when bringing savings to our leadership team.”
