CORPORATE UNITED RECEIVES “2010 NEXT PRACTICE LEADERSHIP AWARD” FROM WEICHERT RELOCATION RESOURCES

CLEVELAND – June 22, 2010 – Corporate United, the nation’s largest group purchasing organization, has been honored with a “2010 Next Practice Leadership Award” from Weichert Relocation Resources Inc. (WRI). WRI, one of the world’s leading providers of relocation and assignment management solutions, named Corporate United an award-winner during its Client Strategy Summit in Boca Raton, Florida.

Next Practice Leadership Awards were established to honor select organizations and corporate relocation professionals for excellence in advancing mobile workforce management through innovation, leadership and strategic use of WRI’s Next Practices. WRI’s Next Practices represent the next generation of relocation and assignment solutions.

Corporate United was selected for its innovative approach to group purchasing and for working with WRI to build synergy with procurement professionals and educate them about the unique nuances of purchasing workforce mobility services.

WRI also honored Alcoa, Inc., BP, Fidelity Investments, GlaxoSmithKline, H.J. Heinz Company and U.S. Foodservice with 2010 Next Practice Leadership Awards.

“We are proud to be working with a number of clients, partners and colleagues who consistently look beyond the way things have always been done to improve and refine and rethink the workforce mobility practice,” said Aram Minnetian, President of WRRI. “For these innovators, we have created our Next Practice Leadership Awards, which recognize not only the breadth of their initiatives and the quantifiable results they’ve achieved, but also for their foresight in adopting Next Practices to drive performance within their organizations.”

“It is an extraordinary honor to be recognized by Weichert Relocation Resources as a ‘Next Practice Leadership’ company,” says Corporate United President Marc Rosen. “As an industry leader in relocation and assignment management services, we are proud to call WRRI our partner and accept this award with great pride.”
